LAST WEEK OF LOCAL MARKET WILL BRING IN MUCH TOBACCO

Warehousemen Are Expecting Quite a Rush on the Maysville Market During This Week—All Farmers Must Get In Their Crops If They Do Not Want to Hang It.

All sales on the Maysville Local Tobacco Market will be suspended on next Friday—March 28—for this season and warehousemen are expecting quite a rush of the weed to market during the next few days. Those tobacco men who have been riding over the county report that there is more tobacco yet hanging in the barns than one would think and that if the farmers are expecting to turn this tobacco into money they will rush it to market in the next few days.

Every farmer in this section has had plenty of time in which to prepare his crop for market. The weather has been favorable and there is no excuse if there is a single farmer in this district who finds himself with a part of his crop on his hands.

Sales will continue daily on the Maysville market at all of the houses until Friday. There will be plenty of room for all of the tobacco yet undelivered and warehousemen are urging the farmers to take no chances on weather conditions but to deliver their tobacco just as soon as they can possibly get it ready for the market. Don't wait until the last day but if there is any possible chance get your crop on the sales floors during the first part of the week.

Although there was a decrease in price last week from the week previous, Supervisor Mitchell reported that the market closed stronger than it opened and that there is a possibility that prices will now remain firm until the end of the week. Get your crop in just as soon as possible.

Phister and Captain Brown, of Manchester, Ohio, for the sale of the Aberdeen-Maysville ferry has fallen through, the option of the Manchester man now having expired. It is also understood, however, that there are several other deals pending which may develop into a real trade within the next few days.

COAL THROWN FROM CARS NEARLY CAUSES A SERIOUS WRECK

Fifteen Year Old Boy Under Arrest on Charge of Coal "Heaving"—Lump of Coal Cuts Air Hose and Causes Sudden Stop Damaging One Car.

A very serious freight wreck on the C. & O. was very narrowly averted this morning when a large lump of coal dumped from a car by alleged coal heaver, cut the air hose connecting the cars and automatically applied the air brakes. The heavy train which was running at a very good rate of speed was stopped almost instantly. One of the cars was buckled so badly that it could not be hauled away in the train and was set off on a siding by the members of the crew.

C. & O. Detective Thomas Stewart and Constable James McNamara began an investigation of the case as soon as it was reported to headquarters and shortly afterward Charles Craig, a fifteen year old boy was under arrest on a charge of stealing from a common carrier in interstate commerce. The warrant was procured in Squire Fred W. Bauer's court and the examining trial will be before Juvenile Judge H. P. Purnell.

When arrested Craig did not deny stealing coal but said that it was not he who dumped off the heavy lump which cut the air hose and came near causing the wreck. He said it was another party and gave that party's name. The police had a warrant issued for this party's arrest and expect to have him under arrest before night. It is said that several lads in the East end of the city have been operating a coal yard for the past several weeks and Detective Stewart assisted by the local officers, has been working on their case for several days.

FLEMING FARMER DIES SUDDENLY IN AUTO IN MAYSVILLE STREET

Wealthy and Prominent Fleming County Man Dies Very Suddenly This Afternoon While in Automobile—Son and Daughter in Machine at Time of His Death.

Mr. John M. Weddle, aged 65 years, wealthy and prominent farmer of Fleming county, died in his automobile in front of Mike Brown's store in Second street about 2 o'clock this afternoon of heart trouble. Mr. Weddle told his son and daughter about five minutes before his death that he was sick and wanted a doctor. The son sent for a doctor immediately but before the physician arrived the father had died. He struggled considerably before death.

Mr. Weddle had been in his usual good health until a few days ago, according to his daughter. Only a few days ago he had an attack with his heart but it was not anything like serious and nothing much was thought of it.

He had come to Maysville this morning with his daughter, Miss Gertrude Weddle, his son, George Weddle, and his visitor, Miss Maude Howard. They had attended to considerable business, among other things Mr. Weddle had just purchased a new automobile from Mike Brown, trading in his old machine. The party was about ready to leave for their home near Flemingsburg when Mr. Weddle was taken ill.

As soon as Mr. Weddle had died quite a crowd gathered on the street about the automobile and Coroner Thomas Higgins was called. The machine in which the man died was pulled into the Brown garage where the inquest was held. It was found that Mr. Weddle had died of heart trouble. His body will be taken to his home in Flemingsburg this evening.

The daughter, a very young lady, was torn to pieces by her father's sudden death and was taken into the Mike Brown store where she was cared for by her guest and the employees of the Brown store.

Mr. Weddle once lived in Mason county but some time ago purchased a large farm in Fleming county near Flemingsburg. He is recognized as one of the most substantial citizens of Fleming county and was a splendid gentleman and good citizen. Besides the two children who were with him at his death, Mr. Weddle is survived by his wife and two other children.

GRAND JURY REPORTS AND GETS TO WORK FOR MARCH TERM

Mason County Grand Jury Begins Its Work—March Term of the Mason Circuit Court Is Formally Opened By Judge Newell.

The March term of the Mason Circuit Court was opened at the Court House at 9:30 o'clock this morning by Circuit Judge C. D. Newell. The first thing done was to entertain the usually large number of motions by the members of the bar and then followed the calling of the docket for the making up of the court calendar. Although the docket is a very large one, the great majority of the cases were passed and from the number of jury cases set by the lawyers, it appears that this is going to be a rather slow term of court.

The Grand Jury as made up is composed of the following citizens: L. H. Young, foreman; R. G. Osborne, Philip Bauer, Enoch Berry, John O. Wilson, Thomas Cummins, W. H. Collins, A. P. Bramel, W. E. Lane, Mike Walton, H. S. Ellis and W. T. Martin. The jury was sworn and instructed by the court and then the members went to their room to begin their deliberations. Judge Newell gave the jury no special instructions calling their special attention only to the breaking of the County Option laws and the gaming laws.

Little business was transacted during the day. The petit jury will report Tuesday morning and then court will begin in earnest. It does not appear, however, that the petit jury will be kept for any great length of time. The calendar for this term follows:

A jury trial having been demanded by the parties the following cases are set for trial at the March term, 1919: Monday, March 31—Dwight-Hinkle Co. vs. Mathews & Co.

Wednesday, April 2—Brammer vs. Morford; Cobb vs. Morford.

Our Shoe Hospital

DANIEL WEBSTER, WHEN HE ENTERED DARTMOUTH COLLEGE IN 1797, WAS DESPERATELY POOR AND ONE OF HIS FRIENDS SENT HIM A RECEIPT FOR GREASING HIS BOOTS. HE WROTE BACK AND THANKED HIM POLITELY, SAYING: "BUT MY BOOTS NEED OTHER DOCTORING FOR THEY NOT ONLY ADMIT WATER, BUT EVEN PEAS AND GRAVEL STONES." HAD HE LIVED IN THIS AGE HE WOULD HAVE BROUGHT HIS BOOTS TO OUR SHOE HOSPITAL AND HAD THEM MADE LIKE NEW.
